

Audio Concepts in the Music Classroom

How to shop, buy, set up,
and use mics and mixers in the music classroom.

Presented by Dale Groff, MEdCI.

Dale Groff studied Audio Engineering at Shoreline College in Seattle, Washington before embarking on a career as a professional Studio Engineer who mixed and mastered music for popular bands and entertainment personalities such as Jumbalassy, Phish, and Courtney Love, as well as recording projects for companies such as Warner Brothers.

After receiving his Masters in Curriculum & Instruction, Mr. Groff designed and created a Digital Audio Production program of study for Lower Columbia College and was instrumental in the planning and design of the technology that was installed into the Rose Center there.
